DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Amendment received on 7/10/2006 is acknowledged and entered. Claims 2, 9, 17 and 21 have been canceled. Claims 1, 3-8, 10-16 and 18-20 are currently pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 5-7, 8, 12-15, 16 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the "SBC global network DSL: Customer Self Install" (Document) in view of Klees (US 5,283,661).

The Document, which appears to be published on August, 2000, teaches a system for customer self installation DSL kit, comprising:

Independent Claims

As per claim 1,

a digital subscriber line modem (page 4; last §);

at least one digital subscriber line filter (page 1; 3rd §);

a computer-readable medium containing a computer-readable software code (page 9; 2nd §).

Furthermore, Document teaches that a consumer orders said kit for his/her computer Operating System (OS), thereby indicating that the arriving kit already requires no selection of OS (page 5; 3rd §; a Table).

However, Document does not specifically teach that said instruction manual (Owner's Guide) is included in the kit.

Klees teaches an apparatus for assisting in the installation of a facsimile machine, wherein the indication is provided that currently, most facsimile equipment come with a manual that has instructions for installation and setup of the machine (C. 1, L. 14-15).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Document to include that said instruction manual is included in the kit, as disclosed in Klees, said manual providing instructions to install all elements of the kit, because it would advantageously allow to provide the customer with necessary diagram and descriptions of the successive installation steps, thereby simplify the installation process for the customer.

As per claim 8, Document teaches said system, comprising:
a network card (page 4; last §);
a digital subscriber line modem (page 4; last §);
at least one digital subscriber line filter (page 1; 3rd §);
a computer-readable medium containing a computer-readable connection software code (page 9; 2nd §).

Furthermore, Document teaches that said kit is available for following OS: DOS, Windows and Macintosh, thereby indicating that a subscriber is required to indicate/select his/her computer OS (page 5; 3rd §; a Table).

However, Document does not specifically teach that said instruction manual (Owner's Guide) is included in the kit.

Klees teaches an apparatus for assisting in the installation of a facsimile machine, wherein the indication is provided that currently, most facsimile equipment come with a manual that has instructions for installation and setup of the machine (C. 1, L. 14-15).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Document to include that said instruction manual is included in the kit, as disclosed in Klees, said manual providing instructions to install all elements of the kit, because it would advantageously allow to provide the customer with necessary diagram and descriptions of the successive installation steps, thereby simplify the installation process for the customer.

As per claim 16, Document teaches said system, comprising:
a network card (page 4; last §);
a digital subscriber line modem (page 4; last §);
at least one digital subscriber line filter (page 1; 3rd §);
a computer-readable medium containing a computer-readable connection software code (page 9; 2nd §).

Furthermore, Document teaches a consumer computer manufacturer's Owner's Guide and computer's Operating System on installation media (CD or diskettes) (page 9; 2nd §); and instruction regarding internet service provider software (page 3, 2nd and 3rd §§).

Furthermore, Document teaches that said kit is available for following OS: DOS, Windows and Macintosh, thereby indicating that a subscriber is required to indicate/select his/her computer OS (page 5; 3rd §; a Table).

However, Document does not specifically teach that said instruction manual (Owner's Guide) is included in the kit.

Klees teaches an apparatus for assisting in the installation of a facsimile machine, wherein the indication is provided that currently, most facsimile equipment come with a manual that has instructions for installation and setup of the machine (C. 1, L. 14-15).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Document to include that said instruction manual is included in the kit, as disclosed in Klees, said manual providing instructions to install all elements of the kit, because it would advantageously allow to provide the customer with necessary diagram and descriptions of the successive installation steps, thereby simplify the installation process for the customer.

Dependent Claims

As per claims 5 and 13, said kit, wherein the instruction manual provides a point of contact telephone number associated with said kid; said kid including the digital subscriber line modem (page 3, 6th §; page 5, 6th §; page 4; last §).

As per claims 6 and 14, said kit, wherein the instruction manual provides a point of contact telephone number associated with said kid; said kid including the digital line filter (page 3, 6th §; page 5, 6th §; page 1, 3rd §).

As per claims 7, 15 and 20, said kit, wherein the instruction manual provides a point of contact telephone number associated with said kid; said kid including the description of computer-readable connection software code (page 9; 2nd §).

Claims 3-4, 10-11 and 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Document in view of Klees and further in view of Official Notice.

Dependent Claims

As per claims 3-4, 10-11 and 18-19, Document in view of Klees teach all the limitations of claims 3-4, 10-11 and 18-19, except a container, which contains said kit and manual.

Official notice is taken that it is well known to provide goods ordered by customers in shipping containers.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the Document to include that said contents of the kit are sent to the customer in a container, because it would advantageously protect the contents of the kit from being damaged or lost during shipment.

Response to Arguments.

Applicant's arguments filed 7/10/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the prior art fails to disclose at most one instruction manual which describes a unified installation process which provides instructions to install all of the digital subscriber line modem, the at least one digital subscriber line filter, and the computer readable connection software code, it is noted that "SBC global network DSL: Customer Self Install" (Document) teaches a customer self installation DSL kit, comprising a digital subscriber line modem (page 4; last §); at least one digital subscriber line filter (page 1; 3rd §); a computer-readable medium containing a computer-readable software code (page 9; 2nd §). Klees was applied to disclose a manual which describes an installation and setup process of a machine, such as a facsimile machine (C. 1, L. 14-15).

In response to applicant's argument that the prior art fails to disclose at most one instruction manual which describes a unified installation process which provides instructions to install all of the network card, the digital subscriber line modem, the at least one digital subscriber line filter, the computer readable connection software code and the computer readable internet service provider specific software code, it is noted that Document teaches a network card (page 4; last §); a digital subscriber line modem (page 4; last §); at least one digital subscriber line filter (page 1; 3rd §); a computer-readable medium containing a computer-readable connection software code (page 9; 2nd §); a consumer computer manufacturer's Owner's Guide and computer's Operating System on installation media (CD or diskettes) (page 9; 2nd §); and instruction regarding internet service provider software (page 3, 2nd and 3rd §§), wherein a subscriber is required to indicate/select his/her computer OS (page 5; 3rd §; a Table).
